

Mothers Share Buying Habits of Childrens Bedroom Furniture

Written by

Mothers Share Buying Habits of Childrens Bedroom Furniture

by: Teresa Schahczinski

Just two months ago, a group of mothers from three generations (Gen Y, Gen X and E

Author and entrepreneur Maria Bailey, an executive in the fields of publishing, marketing, and business

Even though there were some differences there were also many similarities. One baby boomer said she

A Gen Y mom used hand-me-down bedroom furniture, rather than shopping at a furniture store for her b

Although most of the parents claimed that they mostly shopped at discount stores, they admittedly would

All moms stressed importance on bedroom furniture that would grow with their children. One baby boom

I personally feel that this type of survey it tough to gauge. not only should they have to consider the age o

I know that my friends and I are the same age but due to financial reasons we all have made very differ

My other friend decided to forego the changing table altogether, she would change her daughter directl

I am sure someone like Brittny Spears would have very different buying habits than someone, the sam

© Copyright Best-Baby-Furniture.com, All Rights Reserved.

About the author:

Teresa Schahczinski is a frequent contributor to Best Baby Furniture. For more Articles and tips on Sele

Circulated by

Article Emporium